

Masters of Theology (MTh) by Dissertation in (TEEL- Economic & Ecojustice)

The School of Religion Philosophy and Classics at the University of KwaZulu-Natal is happy to announce a new postgraduate program offering Master of Theology with a special focus on Economic and Eco Justice. This is a special masters by dissertation program funded by Council for World Mission (CWM) and it is going attract student's from around the globe . The aim of the program is to offer alternative forms of theological reflection focusing on imperial global systems that perpetuate economical and ecological injustices that are life denying.

The program is committed to offer students interdisciplinary and contextual approaches in responding to realities that have affected the global economy. George Enderle (2011), ' argues that it is hard to ignore the fact that the world's religions influence the economic activities of people in multiple ways.' Just how they do so, and to what extent, is what this program is intending to explore. As the saying goes "Religion is what keeps the poor from murdering the rich". (Napoleon Bonaparte)

MODE OF TEACHING:

- This is an online program.
- All student's will be required to attend these sessions and submit the assessments as required.
